

INFORMED CONSENT

Naturopathic medicine is the treatment and prevention of diseases by natural means. Naturopathic Doctors assess the whole person, taking into consideration physical, mental, emotional and spiritual aspects of the individual. Gentle, non-invasive techniques are generally used in order to stimulate the body's inherent healing capacity.

A number of different approaches are used. Diet and nutritional supplements, botanical medicine, homeopathy, Asian medicine and acupuncture, hydrotherapy, physical medicine and lifestyle counseling are the mainstays of naturopathic medicine.

Individual diets and nutritional supplements are recommended to address deficiencies, treat disease processes and promote health. The benefits include increased energy, increased gastrointestinal function, improved immunity and general well being.

Botanical Medicine is a plant based medicine using herbal teas, tinctures, capsules and other forms of herbal preparations to assist in the recovery from injury and disease. These compounds are also used to boost the body's immune system and prevent disease.

Homeopathy is a form of medicine which uses minute doses of plant, animal or mineral origins to stimulate the body's ability to heal itself. Homeopathy is a powerful tool and effects healing on a physical and emotional level.

Asian Medicine includes acupuncture, as well as the use of botanical formulas and dietary changes to eliminate disease and balance body functions. Acupuncture refers to the insertion of sterilized needles through the skin into underlying tissues at specific points on the surface of the body. Sometimes moxa (a compressed herb in the form of a stick) is burned over an acupuncture point to help relieve symptoms. Botanical formulas may be given in the form of pills, tinctures or decoctions (strong teas) to be taken internally or used externally as a wash. Herbal formulas may include shell, mineral and animal materials as well as plants. Dietary advice is based on traditional Chinese medical theory.

Physical Medicine refers to the use of hands-on techniques such as soft tissue and spinal manipulation, as well as various types of electrical stimulation and therapeutic ultrasound for the purpose of treating musculoskeletal and neurological problems. Hydrotherapy refers to the use of hot and cold water applications to improve circulation and stimulate the immune system.

As Naturopathic Medicine is a holistic approach to health, lifestyle is considered relevant to most health problems. Dr. Orest Szczurko will help you identify risk factors and make recommendations to help you optimize your physical, mental and emotional environment.

Dr. Orest Szczurko will take a thorough case history, do a screening physical examination, and may take blood and urine samples. If your case requires, the physical may include more specific examinations.

Even the gentlest therapies may have complications in certain physiological conditions such as pregnancy and lactation, in very young children, or those with multiple medications. Some therapies just be used with caution in certain diseases such as diabetes, heart, liver or kidney disease. It is very important that you inform your Naturopathic Doctor immediately of any disease process that you are suffering from, if you are on any medication or over the counter drugs. If you are pregnant, suspect you are pregnant or you are breast-feeding, please advise your Naturopathic Doctor immediately.
